The "Come Follow Me" curriculum is a miracle.

Can anyone doubt the inspired timing of the "Come Follow Me" program rolled out by Christ's Church? Look how ready we all were to worship effectively with our families at home during this pandemic.

We have had many tender moments in our home. Truly, it has been a time never to be forgotten. We have enjoyed our scripture reading together with "screen mirroring" from our phones on our big screen in our family room.

The new Book of Mormon videos found in the "Come Follow Me" curriculum are so easily accessed with a click. They bring the stories we've been reading about to life! We let the kids share their thoughts. We ask lots of questions. We pause to ponder. We have been richly edified by our kids' impressions that they share.

We strive to keep the lessons short but powerful. I have loved the focus on how we #HearHim. One Sunday the only discussion we had was each member answering how they personally have heard the Lord. The "Come Follow Me" curriculum is a miracle to me.

'Gospel Voice' Brings Church Content to Amazon and Google Smart Speakers

A few simple words directed at your Amazon or Google smart speaker will, beginning July 22, 2020, bring scripture, music, general conference talks and other important content from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints into your home.

To get started, those who own an Amazon Echo can say, "Alexa, enable Gospel Voice." Users of Google Home can say, "Hey, Google. Talk to Gospel Voice."

English versions of the following content will then be accessible:

- Scriptures – All books of scripture can be accessed by chapter
- Music – Hymns, the Children's Songbook and Youth Music
- General Conference – Both Live and archived dating back to 1971
- 'Come, Follow Me' Curriculum – All three manuals
- Latter-day Saints Channel – All three English channel streams
- 'Saints' Volumes 1 and 2 – Each book in the series is available by chapter

"Gospel Voice can infuse additional power into the gospel-centered home," said Elder Randy D. Funk of the Quorum of the Seventy. "We are especially mindful of those with limited vision and all others of different ages and abilities who will benefit from greater access to core gospel materials in this new channel. During this bicentennial year of the commencement of the Restoration of the gospel of Jesus Christ, we are grateful to introduce this important new tool to help each of us 'Hear Him!'"

"My dear brothers and sisters, I promise that as you prayerfully study the Book of Mormon every day, you will make better decisions—every day. I promise that as you ponder what you study, the windows of heaven will open, and you will receive answers to your own questions and direction for your own life."

President Russell M. Nelson
